Trading Standards Officer

£32,798 - £37,568

Location: Mansfield, Notts.

Closing date: 30 October 2022

Are you a qualified Trading Standards Officer looking for a new challenge?

Nottinghamshire has a proud record in developing and advancing the careers of its Trading Standards Officers. As a large authority, we can offer you opportunities across the full range of Trading Standards work.

We enjoy high levels of recognition locally, regionally, and nationally, and are proud of our Team:

- Hosting the National Trading Standards Regional Investigations Team for the East Midlands for 12 successive years
- Gaining significant confiscations under the Proceeds of Crime Act through our 3 Accredited Financial Investigators
- Protecting our food chain and protecting consumers from unsafe goods, including removing a substantial number of non-compliant products from the consumer market in the last year
- Providing support to a large and growing number of businesses, many within Primary Authority partnerships
- Making a difference to our vulnerable residents, working closely with the county's Multi-Agency Safeguarding Hub to support and protect against fraud
- Striving to prevent animal disease and investigating malpractice, such as recently charging a farmer with the theft of sheep, failing to comply with animal by products requirements and failing to maintain records of animal movements.

If you want to be part of our future achievements, we are looking for flexible, enthusiastic team players to join our dynamic Trading Standards Service to help shape and drive our service forward.

Centrally located and with great road, rail and air transport links, our historic county offers scenic countryside and bustling towns and surrounds the city of Nottingham itself, making it a great place to live in and fulfil your ambitions. Relocation assistance is available in appropriate circumstances. Our excellent ICT equipment and flexible smarter working practices, under the County Council's Hybrid Working Strategy, also provide extensive opportunities for home and remote working so your home location need not be a barrier to applying.

You will hold a Trading Standards qualification. You should be committed to professional development, willing to embrace learning opportunities and prepared to be involved in a wide variety of work to meet the needs of the Service. In return we can offer a competitive salary and the opportunity to develop your experience and leadership skills.

If you are ready to take your career to the next level and want to achieve the best outcomes for our communities then we'd like to hear from you.
