

Overseas Application Recognition

Applicants who hold an international legal metrology qualification may request recognition of their qualification through the process administered by OPSS and CTSI. This process supports the review of overseas qualifications against the requirements of the UK Section 73 qualification.

To seek recognition of a qualification, applicants are required to complete the Assessment of Prior Learning (APL) process with the CTSI Education Team.

As part of this process, applicants must provide evidence demonstrating how their qualification meets the Section 73 requirements.

Applicants should review the Assessment of Prior Learning Guidance available on our website before submitting a request.

Any queries should be directed to the Education Team by email at qualifications@tsi.org.uk.
