Full -Time, Permanent

An opportunity has arisen to join this unique authority, protecting and enhancing the City of London, the world's pre-eminent financial centre.

We have been regulating trade in the City OF London for hundreds of years and continue to support good businesses, protect consumers and deal with rogue traders. Although a small service, we punch well above our weight and work very closely with partner agencies, particularly the City of London Police, to deal with the disruption of investment fraud.

Investment scams try and associate themselves with the city, to reassure potential victims but part of our role is to protect the reputation of the Square Mile. We also carry out a full range of other trading standards functions and want to develop and implement projects that are relevant to issues within the City. The City attracts a wide variety of businesses and this makes for an interesting and stimulating workload.

We are looking for dynamic individuals with solid enforcement experience across the whole range of trading standards legislation. Preferably you will hold a recognised trading standards qualification. However, if you aren't suitably qualified but have considerable relevant knowledge and experience, your application will be considered.

We offer a generous annual leave entitlement depending on your previous Local Government service, a 35-hour working week and modern offices right in the heart of London at Guildhall. We will pay your CTSI subscription and offer support for your CPPD.

For an informal discussion, please contact Steve Playle, Trading Standards Manager, on 07968 834647 or email steve.playle@cityoflondon.gov.uk
