

Matthew Upton

As Head of Policy for Consumer and Public Services at Citizens Advice Matthew leads an agenda of policy research on issues ranging from social care, health and housing to consumer market failure in telecoms and financial services.

Before joining Citizens Advice in March 2016, he worked in the public and private sector as a Strategic Lead at the London Borough of Camden and a Director of TCC, a communications consultancy working across the UK.