What is BRS?

BRS provides businesses with the confidence required to follow current best practice, ensuring reduced risk and compliance.

It is a central regulatory control system with legal advice, guidance and resources covering the following regulatory areas:

- Health and Safety
- Food
- Fire
- Product Safety
- Fair Trading
- Environment
- Licensing
- Dealing with Customers
- Generic Legal Advice

Clients benefit from:

- Guidance on a number of regulatory areas in one secure and customised place
- A tailored and co-ordinated package focusing on your specific business requirements, which will help to support you in reducing your risks and working towards compliance
- Up-to-date content that is being maintained by experts
- A cloud based system which can be accessed on mobiles, tablets and laptops from any location as long as you have internet access
- Consistent, easy-to-understand information, taking the complexity out of regulation

How does BRS work?

Once you have purchased an annual licence and selected your package, you will be given a unique login to the online site.

On entering the site, you will see different regulatory topics related to your business, and content which applies to you. This will be risk rated in line with your business. You are also able to personalise your site and add your own documentation.

What are my options?

We have three packages for you to choose from:

Bespoke development:

In order to fully meet the needs of your company, additional functionality can be added to BRS such as:

- An audit tool - a suite of audit templates for the different regulatory areas, which can be completed and stored online
- Incident reporting function - the option to record and report on incidents through the platform
- Online due diligence - a bespoke hierarchy to exactly match your company structure, reporting requirements and access permissions
