

Happy Hanukkah

Help to create an inclusive environment by following these five tips.

Get educated

Ensure staff who supervise self-identified Jewish colleagues are aware of Hanukkah and how they can be supportive.

Intentional planning

Avoid booking meetings and scheduling events during Hanukkah.

Find solutions for all parties

Work during Hanukkah is permitted, however as the candles are lit at sundown, those who observe may wish to leave work early.

Be flexible

Accommodate requests for time off for religious observances.

Don't make assumptions

For personal reasons, not all Jewish colleagues celebrate Hanukkah.
