The Food Services Team consists of trading standards, environmental health and animal health professionals all of who work closely together to ensure public protection is maintained.

Main areas of responsibility include enforcement of food standards legislation across a range of food businesses including caterers, retailers and manufacturers. The role also includes enforcement of feed hygiene legislation and the investigation of complaints and supporting/advising local businesses.

This is a career graded post and ideally we would look to recruit at the highest level due to workload needs. However we will also seriously consider applications received from applicants without the relevant qualification or individuals who are part way through their Trading Standards qualifications and both are encouraged to apply. We will provide relevant training and potential for career progression.
