Weigh To Go - OPSS Metrology Update

Speakers: Amanda Farrell and James Greenaway

The session will provide an update and overview of progress made on legal metrology since OPSS was formed. Including OPSS oversight of Approved Verifiers and Manufacturers, market surveillance activities, support and resources for trading standards along with current policy developments.

The Office for Product Safety and Standards was formed in 2018, incorporating the responsibilities for metrology policy and technical support. This session will provide an update and overview of progress and developments on legal metrology and will include:

- developments in how OPSS provide oversight of the activities of Approved Verifiers and Approved Manufacturers
- an update on recent OPSS market surveillance project on NAWIs
- details of how to access certificates
- support available on www.regulatorscompanion.info
- round up of current developments in metrology policy and guidance

Learning outcomes:

Delegates will gain insights and understanding of:

- the system of conformity assessment and approved verification
- how to access guidance and information
- current OPSS metrology activities
